

The Circus.
One of the largest crowds ever in Mayaville on circus day was on hand yesterday.
All during the forenoon the principal streets were almost impassable, and it was estimated that 6,000 people attended the show in the afternoon.
John Robinson was always a favorite here and the officers of the company are well known and popular.
The crowd was orderly and well-behaved, the police having little or no trouble.

"Leading Local Paper."
The Mayville correspondent of The Constitution Commonwealth says it is currently reported that The Cincinnati Tribune and MAYVILLE PUBLIC LEADER have arranged to have both papers delivered to The Leader's city subscribers at fifty cents a month—just the price that is now charged for The Tribune alone. THE LEADER is a bright, newsy paper, and The Tribune is lucky if the report be true. It is said that The Tribune is combining thus with the leading local paper all up and down the river. It remains to be seen how the regular five cent dailies will meet this departure.

District No. 4.

School District No. 4 closed its session Thursday evening with a somewhat novel though very pleasant entertainment. It consisted of ice cream, cake and lemonade, given by Professor Swift's pupils as expressing their love and respect for him. The entertainment closed with a few fitting remarks by Professor Swift and the awarding of diplomas to the pupils who have had an average for the year of 80 per cent. or above. Those receiving diplomas are the following: Violet Graham, Willie White, Anna Cablish, Cora Sanier, Nora Clinger, Duke White, Ernest Miles, Lagoon Woods, Ralph Pollitt.

MAN AT GATE.

That Was Shortly After the Murder of Mrs. Borden.

Painter Sawyer Testifies to a Crowd Swarming about the Premises

After the Terrible Crime Was Committed—Emma Borden Will Likely Testify in Behalf of Her Unfortunate Sister Although a Government Witness.

New Bedford, Mass., June 17.—There was less of a crowd at the coroner's inquest Friday morning than there has been at any time since the beginning of the trial. Among the early visitors was Miss Emma Borden, who is, it is understood, to be called by the defense, although she was down as a government witness. She testified that on Friday morning that she had not passed a very painful night and the information came, with a cheering smile, that she would feel better by and by.

The decision relative to the admission of the evidence of the Portuguese painter and the testimony of "Poor Mrs. Borden" was in order the first thing Friday morning. The testimony of the painter had been called in connection with the testimony of some points which the latter declared made clear that the testimony of the court said it was clear that the evidence could not be admitted.

The first witness Friday was Sarah R. Hart. She testified to having passed the Borden house at 9:30 on the day of the murders. "On the day of the murders," she said, "I passed by Mr. Borden's house with my sister-in-law, Mrs. Manly, about 9:30 a. m.; we passed by the north gate and stopped there to speak to my nephew, who was there in a carriage, and went up to the back of his carriage. While I was there I saw a young man standing in the gate way. It was not Mr. Borden. He was resting his head on his left hand, his elbow being on the gate post. I was there five minutes, and he was there when I went to the gate. He did not change his position that I noticed. He turned his head to look at me. I did not know the man."

Charles S. Sawyer, a painter from Fall River, "I recall the day Officer Allen put on guard at the Borden's side door, after we had been in the house. When I was there, I did not sell, Mrs. Churchill, Miss Lizzie and Miss Sullivan were in the kitchen. Miss Lizzie was sitting in a rocking chair and the others were seated to be working over her, fanning her and rubbing her hands. I was close to her all the time. She appeared to be quite what distressed. I saw no signs of blood on her head, hair, hands or dress."

By this witness it was proven that many people were swarming about the Borden house and in the barn where Lizzie is said to have been during the murders, but which she did not subsequently visit and could find no traces of Miss Borden or any one else.

The Borden's War.

VALPARAISO, June 17.—A correspondent in Rio Grande testifies that the frightful atrocities are being practiced by the Castilianos. Gov. Castillo ordered a man's throat cut because he was suspected of being a socialist. This murder was committed in the presence of the wife of the victim. A state of terror now prevails in central Africa, so the correspondent telegraphs, exists in the state of Rio Grande do Sul. Barbarous punishments are inflicted on those suspected of being revolutionaries. The revolutionaries are daily receiving new recruits. Many officers of the national guard have deserted the government and gone to the rebels.

Crittenden, consul-general at the city of Mexico, and Judge Sneed, both of Kentucky are said to be under consideration in connection with the appointment of a successor to Hon. J. H. Blount, of Georgia, as United States minister to the Hawaiian Islands. The slip has it that one of them will be chosen, but there is no agreement as to the one.

INQUEST CONTINUED.

The Testimony Friday Very Strong Against Alinsworth and Dant.

WASHINGTON, June 17.—At the continuance of the inquest into the cause of the disaster in Ford's theater, witnesses gave testimony which tended to show even more than that of Friday, that Col. Alinsworth and Contractor Dant were personally responsible for the condition of the building and that the work performed in extension of the cellar was defective in every respect.

Architect Clark, of the capital and building inspector's office, reappeared on the stand Friday and added his testimony regarding the faulty methods of construction employed in the building. Two of the men employed by Contractor Dant, Messrs. Scott and Parker, told how they worked in underpinning the pier beneath the building. They did not think there was any danger of the building giving way, and they received no instructions either from Mr. Dant or from Col. Alinsworth to be particularly careful in the work they were engaged upon. Both these men, however, admitted that they had not performed in the matter of underpinning the building. They admitted there should have been some effort made to secure the reports of the building, but they thought the contractor and Col. Alinsworth knew what they were about and for that reason gave themselves no concern with regard to the safety of the structure. If R. Covert, the superintendent of the building, testified that Col. Alinsworth was obtaining false reports of the safety of the building. The witness said Col. Alinsworth had instructed him to watch the progress of the work under the building, while he obeyed the instructions he did not know enough about building operations to be able to judge whether or not the work was being properly performed. Other witnesses declared that it was currently known after the work under the building was begun that the building was in danger. It is thought the inquest will be concluded Saturday.

THE RETURNS.

The German Government is Very Backward About

Giving to the World the Details of Its Defeat.

A Socialistic Victory is the Result of the Election in Germany—Their Gains, However, Have Not Been a Majority—New Elections to the Reich.

BREITENBURG, June 17.—News of the election throughout the empire is still somewhat scarce, and Friday night it was almost unobtainable, aside from the general reports. Taking them all around, the election authorities have been remarkably slow in fixing the returns. Perhaps their backwardness is explained by the fact that the government seemed to be beaten, and that the commission decided to take their time about pronouncing to the world a socialistic victory. Undoubtedly the "reds," as the official press called them Friday, have been a most conspicuous success. Their gains and votes, however, do not mean an absolute majority of socialists. A great many people also voted socialist this year simply because they desired to give a most emphatic expression against the army bill.

There will be a great number of new elections, as the majority given is not generally believed. Of the socialistic candidates beyond any doubt elected the following are the best known: Bloch, in Brunswick; Geyer, in Leipzig; the Berlin Germans, Tautman, in Berlin; Von Volmar, in Munich; Wurm, in Rostock; Grillenberg, in Lubeck; Hoffman, in Chemnitz; Arndt, in Saxony; Bebel, in Hamburg; and Dietz, in Hamburg. Bebel will contest the election of the national liberal party in Strasbourg, also a socialist. He will contest the election with a national liberal in Stuttgart, in Berlin, in Hagenburg, in Mueckenburg, in Lubeck, in Mannheim and other cities.

The number of socialists elected will exceed fifty. Rebuilding will be necessary in 114 districts as far as known now, and thus increase the government's chances. Of course there will be no direct pressure brought to bear on the voters, but the government's officials, especially in the country districts, have constituencies well in hand. The former houseman of Prince Bismarck, the usual liberal, who, by the way, was high-tariff man, will return in greater numbers to the Reichstag than any previous sitting session. Richter, the old liberal, who, having a marshal more party members than Herr Von Bismarck. Richter, for the first time in many years, lost instead of gained the election. He is promising attitude towards capital has undoubtedly cast a shade over his prospects. The socialist gains are mostly in the east of the empire. The conservatives and free-conservatives seem to have held their own. The anti-Prussian liberals will have a following of about 100,000 democratic centers.

A Crooked Politician.

CHICAGO, June 17.—David C. Ritchie, formerly lieutenant of police, and until Friday morning a central office detective, while riding on a Cottage Grove avenue car Friday evening, snatched a pocket book from a Mrs. Murphy, of New York. After securing the money he jumped from the car and ran like a deer, but was followed by three or four passengers and arrested. He made desperate resistance and required four policemen to put him in the wagon. He was discharged from the force Friday morning for drunkenness.

To Fill Beecher's Pulpit.

LOS ANGELES, June 17.—Rev. C. P. Akol, concerning whose opinions the Baptists, as a body, are most concerned, has been invited by Rev. Lyman Abbott, to fill the pulpit of the late Henry Ward Beecher, and will sail Saturday. He is still a young man and resides in Liverpool, where his lectures on "Prophecy and Prophecy" have won him great success. He is also a powerful and popular preacher.

A Partial Cotton Survey.

ATLANTA, Ga., June 17.—The Augusta exchange has received answers to inquiries as to the condition of the cotton crop from four counties in South Carolina and eleven in Georgia. The report the average increase of area at five per cent. The crop will be later than last year. Considerable replanting will be necessary, owing to seed, insects and high winds. Labor is plentiful.

Judge Sneed Will Accept.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., June 17.—Judge John L. T. Sneed Friday telegraphed Secretary Gresham that he had accepted the appointment of consul general at Honolulu, Hawaii Islands. The appointment will be officially announced from Washington in a day or two.

De Lorge Wants an Unconditional Loan.

PARIS, June 17.—M. Charles De Lorge will apply to the court for an unconditional release on the grounds that he has served half the time of his first sentence, and that the second has been quashed by the superior court.

Wanted to Be an Inspector.

WASHINGTON, June 17.—An application was Friday received at the treasury department from M. K. Welch, of Canton, O., for the position of inspector of customs at Philadelphia.

Curran's Death.

PARIS, June 17.—It is now stated that President Curran's real trouble is typhoid, and that a complicated operation will, perhaps, be necessary. He is now in a critical condition.
